Glachbeg Croft – will be opening to provide education programmes in the Spring of 2005. Glachbeg Croft is not just an environmental education centre. will be able to provide curriculum support across most areas of study. Programmes will be constructed with you to be a fun, exciting experiential learning event.

Curriculum point for today Find out more about celebrations and ceremonies to mark special occasions .

With the aid of a crane – the sections are lifted into place and glued into the concrete below

Most of the drainage pipe work and all of the concrete pads for the frame are now hidden beneath the concrete slab. The next job is to bolt together the sections of the frame.

5 hours later it is all in place.
Our German joiners then celebrated with a traditional German ceremony marking pride in their work. The ceremony involved some high level chanting, some wine, dropping a glass onto the ground, and then putting up a tree with scarves soaked in the sweat of their labour, telling the world that there is a new building and that they are proud .
