Glachbeg Croft – will be opening to provide education programmes in the Spring of 2005. Glachbeg Croft is not just an environmental education centre. It will be able to provide curriculum support across most areas of study. Programmes will be constructed with you to be a fun, exciting experiential learning event.

Apologies. The last update may have appeared with a mistake in the return e- mail address (a comma instead of a dot!)

Remember these logs? These were Douglas Fir trees from Blackstand on the Black Isle.

We then got “Sage” to come in with his mobile saw mill- to turn these logs into the cladding and other finishes for the building

4 days of work for 3 people

The timber appears and a lot of waste !

Questions: On the theme “Sustainability”

1. Why can timber be a “sustainable” material ?
2. Why is it good to use local timber and to bring the saw mill to the timber rather than the timber to the mill? (Clue- transport!)

Happy Christmas to you all from the Bull family
